PERKINS Seminar Series

THURSDAY 29 JUNE

Gary Cox
Chairman & Principal
Wrays

"Case studies for IP protection – from a researcher perspective"

- I have this data- can I protect it?
- What protection is available?
- Is it worth protecting it?
- prognostic v diagnostic?
- What do I need to do?

Gary started as an IP practitioner in 1990 as an Examiner of Patents with the Australian Patent Office (now IP Australia).

In 1991, he moved to Sydney and took up a position with a then leading Sydney based IP firm. In 1994, Gary took up a position with Wrays. Gary has been Chairman at Wrays since 2009.

Gary's practice reaches into the following IP domains in all the industry technical fields identified above:

- Litigation & contentious matters including:
 - Patent oppositions; and
 - Infringement and Revocation actions in Australia and in New Zealand in conjunction with NZ solicitors.
- advice towards strategic IP development in start-up companies and SME's;
- drafting patent applications;
- prosecution of patent applications; and
- opinion work, including freedom to operate opinions, opinions for regulatory approval of pharmaceuticals as well as general due diligence opinions.

12:00pm till 1:00pm

followed by a light lunch
